ANVILLE, VA., July 31.—
In a fast and furious game to-duy the Lawmikers again went down, victims of the To-bacconists. The visitors started off in the first inning by sending one man across the home plate, and it looked like this would tell the take. Up to the fifth inning it was one, two, three order, but this inning was the fatal one. In this inning Rickards walked, and was sacrificed. Evans went to first on an error of Reeves, who dropped the ball. Biggy hit to Cuddy, who muffed, and Rickards scored. Doyle singled to right-field with the bases full, and a double by Felzer scored three runs. Fetzer was brought home by a single of Powell. Long, for the visitors, pitched a magnificent game, and allowed fower hits than Evans. Had he been given better fielding support there might have been a different take, though two of Danville's runs were carned. For the locals, the bestlage of Setzer was the feature. been a different tale, though two of Dan-ville's runs were carned. For the locals, the batting of Fetzer was the feature, he securing two doubles and a single out of four times up. Doyle and Benny played star games, and Evans, the twirter, was very resourceful when men were on bases, and kept his hits well scattered. Two pretty double plays were pulled off by Richmond during the contest. Following is the tabulated score: 'DANVILLE.'

ROANOKE, VA., July 31.—The second of the series bet/een Roanoke and Lynchwas won in the first inning. At the end of the game the score was 4 to 1. The Shoemakers found Cassidy for five hits in the first, but luckly only two runs resulted, these being enough, however, to tell the tale. Roanoke, while securing eight hits off of Reiss, were unable to put a man safely across the plate until the ninth, when McMahen sent a hot one down the third-base line for three hags, secoring a little later on a fly ball to right. Roanoke was not in the game, being outplayed at all points by the visitors. The score: being output tors. The score: ROANOKE. AB. R. H. O. A. E.

"KID" MAYOR OF MILWAUKEE WHO PROMOTES BOXING GAME

Mayor Bocker achieved much renownand startled conservative Milwaukee by his unique method of raising funds to erect Milwaukee's convention hall. It is the Mayor's intention to promote a carnival of sports in September, and he has secured Oldfield's promise to star at the auto tournament. This was highly approved by the Board of Aldermen, but some few of them bucied' at the more liberal intention of promoting a few boxing matches to swell the receipts, and at least one of the local papers has hinted that it will raise obstacles to prevent the sporty chief executive from putting it down on his programme, though his honor is confident of carrying out the original schedule. The "Kid" Mayor is seated at the steering wheel in the picture, and has just secured Barney's promise to help him out with the automobile racing end of the affair.

PLAYED TO STANDSTILL.

Comic Exhibition of National Game at Norfolk Yesterday.

Game at Norfork Yesterday.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

NORFOLK, WA., July 31.—Norfolk and Portsmouth essayed to play ball in mud and rain through eight innings this afternoon, each side scoring six runs. It was a comic production of baseball, and the 300 speciators who braved the weather enjoyed it as such. Not even those who journeyed to the park were certain that there would be a game, but the game had not been called off, and Barley Kain and Winn Clarke led their men on the field as a matter of course. Umpires Rollins and Stachle were there, too, but no other officials of the game or park. Gatekeepers, ticket-sellers and collectors were all, absent, thinking there would be no game. A spectator was asked to keep the score.

GLIDDEN TOURISTS WILL MAKE JAMESTOWN OBJECTIVE

Cars Will Come From Boston, Pass Through Richmond and After Side Trips in Virginia, Finish at Exposition.

BRETTON WOODS, N. H., July 81 The motor vehicle meeting in the White Mountains closed to-day with the hillclimbing contest, in which thirty cars competed in eight events. Some fast times were made, and there were many hairbreadth escapes in the eighteen-mile run up the narrow road of the Crawford

Notch, from the Willey House to the Crawford House lawn. The best time was made by Guy Vaughn's thirty-horse power gasolone car, which covered the distance in two minutes and forty-eight distance in two minutes and forty-eight seconds.

While waiting for the hill-climbing contests to finish, there was considerable discussion among the automobilists regarding nort year's tour of the American Automobile Association, and the proposed run from Boston to Jamestown, Va. in order to bring the tourists to the Southern city in time for the Exposition, seemed to meet with great favor. It is generally understood that a committee will look over the Boston-Jamestown route. It is planned to send the cars from Boston through Warcester, Spring-field, New York, Philadelphia, the battlefield of Gettysburg, Baltimore, Washington, Richmond and with two or three side trips in Virginia, finally bringing the finish at Jamestown. The side trips in the finish at Jamestown. The side trips in the Southern members of the association are very anxious to have the tour in that direction, and if is expected that the cities May, or June.
